There's a haunted house
on a dead end street
A million dead lovers are sinking at sea
They're all gone now it's just you and me

Gonna find a little island Gonna throw your cell phone and your new computer away Think you're forgetting how to feel
The man within his needs

Check the concourse, level B
There's a haunted house
on a dead end street
A million dead lovers are sinking at sea
They're all gone now it's just you and me
They're all gone now it's just you and me

Check the concourse, level B
There's an abandoned car down on highway three
A million dead lovers are sinking at sea
They're all gone now it's just you and me
They're all gone now it's just you and me
They're all gone now it's just you and me
