So I crank the tunes up in my car
And drive to anywhere you are
And if my car broke down well then I'd run
To where I find my freedom

So you open your door to my tired face
And welcome me into your place
You understand how far I've come
To where I find my freedom

Then you offer me a nice cold drink
'Cause inside I'm too tired to think
I'd always sought a simple love
It's where I find my freedom

Late at night we sway to sleep
I pray to God that you will keep
Me in your arms 'til the rising sun
It's where I find my freedom

It's where I find my freedom
