"New Years Eve"

And the will to wander

Open up
It's New Year's Eve
Kiss the killers and the kind and the crude
I'm lookin but I can't see through you
With your head bowed down in your brand-new suit

When I was a child I was your father
Now I'm a man I could be your son
You had the time
You had the muscle
And the will to wander
You walked away

Welcome back
You looked good I guess
Welcome back
You looked reconstructed

Open up
It's New Year's Eve
Heard the faintest ?
Should all acquaintances be forgotten
Or forgiven as whiskey turns to rhymes?

You were only here in moments
Saved for us ?
You had the time
You had the muscle
And the will to wander
