"Waltz of the New Moon"

I hear that the emperor of china used to wear iron shoes with ease
We are the tablecloth and also the table also the fable of the dancing leaves

The new moon is rising the axe of the thunder is broken as never was not since the flood nor yet since the world began

The new moon is shining the angels are washing their windows

Above the years whose jumble sale goes spinning on below

Ask the snail beneath the stone, ask the stone beneath the wall

Are there any stars at all

Like an eagle in the sky tell me if air is strong

In the floating pan pipe victories of the golden harvest Safe in the care of the dear moon

The new moon is rising the eyelid of god is approaching

The humane train the skating raining travelling voice of certainty

The new moon is shining the harmonious hand is now holding lord krishna's ring the eagle's wing the voice of mother everything

Ask the snail beneath the stone, ask the stone beneath
the wall

Like an eagle in the sky tell me if air is strong

In the floating palaces of the spinning castle May the fire king's daughter bring water to you
