The stage the lights, I've so desired
Although I feel inside as if I'm losing it
So close but yet I'm, So far away from
From what I had before this day had come

I remember when you were so close to me
But now its just a memory
Crowds of people surround me by im lonely
Somethings aren't always what they seem

Show time no time to relax
I can't even take a minute I can't get off track
Fast pace now I'm livin the life
But I can't explain this pain inside
I've sacrificed my love my life
I've paid the price now I'm left lonely

The stage the lights, I've so desired
Although I feel inside as if I'm losing it
So close but yet I'm, So far away from
From what I had before this day had come

Every night I sit at the edge of my bed
What beautiful memories
All of my loved ones are racing through my head
Is loneliness my destiny?
