You helped me face the hard times with smiles.
You said "it will only last a while".
All my fears I shared with you, always made time to Hear me through.
But my heart is colored blue 'cause the thing I failed
To do was say I love you.

You see, I never felt worthy of your heart.
Seeing myself through your eyes I didn't seem very Smart.
To handle things the way you could or like a street

Smart man would.
Now I can't deny the truth that the thing I failed to Do was say I love you.

Bridge

One would never know the things he'll gain until he
Uses his voice to say the things he believes.
Now every time I see your face I'm reminded of that
Thing I failed to do&ldots; and that one thing I failed
To do was say I love you.
