Somewhere deep inside my heart and mind
Your spirit moves and brings your words to life
Revealing all my sins my careless ways
Reminding me my debt to you has been paid, it has been paid

And I've been saved by grace
And I've been saved by love
There is nothing more you could have done
You sent your son
And I've been saved by grace

Searching for the words to thank my king
Humbled by my silent offering
Tears of joy well from the depths of my soul
There is no greater gift I know , I'll ever know, ever know

And I've been saved by grace
And I've been saved by love
There is nothing more you could have done
You sent your son
And I've been saved by grace, saved by grace

I've been saved by grace
I've been saved by love
There is nothing more you could have done

You sent your son

I've been saved by grace
I've been saved by love
There is nothing more you could have done
You sent your son, you sent your son

I've been saved by grace
I've been saved by love
There is nothing more you could have done
You sent your son
