I believe that's love

I believe that's love

that's love....

I believe that's love

I believe love, love uh of the things we believe there's a whole lot of work we should roll up our sleeves and we got a hold firm when fate's full like a sieve why doubt your plans cause when its all worth believing we can make it work do believe that we've mistrust in the dust and believe fact we can achieve tact by tuning out negative feedback naysayers can hate we concentrate to bring belief back into ourselves into the world into the rap game emcees are miserable that means their music's leaving mikes maimed man look we holding down for the truth if we alone in the loop we gone hold for the proof man put it in believing believe in believing seeing ain't believing its the feeling that we needing believe in each other put the question to the system they promising returns then question what you getting we should believe in the reasons we existing time for renaissance to reawaken what is with it belief can confirm make it is what it isn't sometimes i wish i had belief when i didn't

I believe that's love

in the land of make belief time to make unbelief believable take a belief to the realm of the real believe in this shit that's force fed through the medium believe it is real when it's really a raw deal never disbelieve when you see human miracle like ghetto children shining bright in babylon believe in that don't believe in stats to the contrary gotta be weary of them theories carry on people find belief when they don't find identity believe in your friends don't believe in your enemies mountains of doubts and disbeliefs right in front of you troops on the other side what u gone do
