"Runaway"

Neon lights, line the clouds that haunt your dreams
All alone, steppin' out onto the streets
Mother's call, baby's gone and can't be found
Comes the night, that's the time it hurts the most

Oh, Runaway... you can't hide from the night
Runaway, everybody wants to fight your love

Memories, of a family somewhere crying
Carry on, while inside emotions dying
Children lost, fantasies of days gone by Runaway, where's the love you want to find

Runaway... memories have grown so cold
Runaway... frozen in a heart that feels no love
