When the mirror cracks
Guess who's really looking back at you
What an abomination
Don't you people know your race is through

[Chorus:]
How can we survive
When everything you hear is just a lie
How can we survive
When everything you're telling us is lies

Does your blood run cold when thinking
That someday you will be old
Faster than the speed of light
Those images that run our lives are told

[Chorus]

No one knows who runs the show
We don't have time we got to go... goodbye
Following the master's voice leading us
To make the choices... lies

[Chorus]
