When I left you this morning
It's just like before
You say nothing changes
Passing time around here

Stole a long string of pearls
And I'd pawned downtown
Gonna buy me some good fun
Back where no one can see

And the long black dream is over
As the snow falls on and on
And it takes five cups of coffee
To calm down before I sleep

Let the sky soak on my clothes
Way back in the alley
All of the red leaves
Mixed up in perfume
Take the chance that I left you
Knowing where you might need me
So easy to believe
In someone I never see

And the long black dream is over
As the snow falls on and on
And it takes five cups of coffee
To calm down before I sleep

And the long black dream is over
As the snow falls on and on
And it takes five cups of coffee
To calm down before I sleep

And the long black dream is over
As the snow falls on and on
And it takes five cups of coffee
To calm down before I sleep
