i arch my back to touch the stars as they fall from my hand for tommorrow the sun will rise again a pearl a grain of sand i let the clothes slip from my bones i step into the stream
for tommorrow the sun will rise again i'm washing my hands clean my darling child was lost at sea today and in the cold light she fades show me how to break the waves collision of the soul
for tommorrow the sun will rise again she's taking me back home
she fades
she fades
she fades
she fades
