You said it out loud, there's no taking this back now
You should've thought twice
It can't just be easy right?
You choke and pull through
If you gave your all that'll do
What's another mistake if we continue the sweet break?

Fall into holes that we dug ourselves
Praying we'll just see something else
I'm gone

You always fill the depth
I don't know just what you are
You take me so far
And it always kills me
You take and cut me down
Never bite the same bullet twice
You always find me out

It's cold cause I want it to be tonight
I'm stuck in a hurry
And you won't take your time
Is this what you want?
I search for something just to get away
And you're keeping me alive
And I won't hold on to my regrets
Cause the last time I was here I almost died
And I'm gone

You always fill the depth
I don't know just what you are
You take me so far
And it always kills me
You take and cut me down
Never bite the same bullet twice
You always find me out

As the cold night pulls me nearer
I choke on the words
And as the leaving draws it clearer
You start your car

You drive so far away (Don't leave I swear I'll stay, the present is so old we just fell back
Into... I don't want to say)

And if the waters ever come back
We'll both just know
Your touch is still on my skin, and I won't let it go

You always fill the depth
I don't know just what you are
Whoa oh whoa oh whoa oh
You take me so far
And it always kills me
You take and cut me down
