She's been drifting for too long now
But now her ship's come in
He'd been running from the shadows
Now sunlight floods within

There's something new inside
First time to realise

Afterglow
Afterglow

He built his fortress so high
With walls of past mistakes
But now he leaves it burning
Purged from regret's heartbreak

There's something new inside
First time to realise
New light behind those eyes
First time to realise

Afterglow
Afterglow
Afterglow
Afterglow

I've been drifting for too long now
But now my ship's come in
I've been running from the shadows
Now sunlight floods within
