it takes a little bit of faith to get it right to make it turn from dust to gold it takes a little bit of power so hold on tight to stop your fire from blowing cold I slip and slide still standing tall still walking forwards I wont fall takes a little bit of faith to get it right to make it turn from dust to gold

it takes a mustard seed of love to move it on to help it go from head to heart it takes a mustard seed of deed to show this crazy love from You will never part day by day and hour by hour I'm marching on toward the light
it takes a mustard seed of love to move it on
to help it go from head to heart

I know what I need and I need it now I know what I need - Heavens Strength cos I know what I need and I need it now I know what I need

I need some supernatural wisdom on my side to keep my paths from being deceived need to travel with the humble lose my pride to keep me down upon my knees on and on I tip toe through the strangling reeds and flaming darts need some supenatural wisdom on my side
to keep my paths from being deceived

Heaven's strength, Heaven's strength...

I know I need Your love poured down Heavens strength is all around still I reach but then I fall again

I know what I need and I need it now
I know what I need - Heavens Strength
cos I know what I need and I need it now

I know what I need
