Look what you've done, look around at everything you've caused
Now, if you can't be yourself with me, don't be anyone at all

Take what you can, get the fuck out
Take what you need, leave it alone
Take what you can, get the fuck out
Take what you need, leave it alone
Take what you can, leave it alone, just leave it alone

You always wanted me to write a song about you
But we could never see this through
And all these words, they crash and burn around you

You'll get what you deserve.

You always wanted me to write a song about you
But we could never see this through
And all these words crash and burn around you

You always wanted me to write a song about you
We could never see this through
And all these words, they crash and burn around you
These words crash and burn

And now, you're a picture perfect sight

The view is so hazy tonight
But you're a picture perfect sight
Goodbye and Goodnight

Goodnight.

I can make this just as real as I can
I'm not leaving without a fight

Don't make a martyr of yourself, yourself
Don't make a martyr of yourself

You always wanted me to write a song
About you
And all these words, they crash and burn around you
These words crash and burn

And what.
