I don't want to write another song
About the way that you hurt me
So I burned everything that you'd ever gave me
Hoping this would pave a new way

Is this the way you wanted it to be?
I can't just pretend its over with
I tried so hard to forgive you
But everyday I burn another memory

So say goodbye to me
So shed your last tear
But don't expect a kiss from me
And don't expect a long goodbye

Go on say your sorry just one more time
I don't even know what that word means
So I burned everything you'd ever gave me
Hoping this would pave a new wave

Because you don't know how it feels
And you don't know how I am

Cause I'm moving on with my life
I don't want to be your friend
Just because I know we won't
So this is goodbye
