You look at me with those eyes
Where they based on lies
We're nothing but friends
that's how the book ends
Please know that I would if I could
But my heart doesn't know if it should

I hope this song doesn't break your heart
And that this chorus doesn't fall apart
I hope this will remain
With you never forgetting my name

It's so sad when I come to realize
That his happiness filled with lies
Don't start with those words once again
What's wrong with staying this way?
There are only a few things you can't say

I hope this song doesn't break your heart
And that this chorus doesn't fall apart
I hope this will remain
With you never forgetting my name

Don't let this change anything between us
Don't worry about the things I say
You know I need you in my own way
Because you never let me down
I worry about the things you say
I know you need me in your special way

I hope this song doesn't break your heart
And that this chorus doesn't fall apart
I hope this will remain
With you never forgetting my name

I hope this song doesn't break your heart (5x)
