When I can't look the other way
There's only you to wonder

And on hard times a doorway leans on days
As though I'm needing you
And some have helped me become older
I suggest you're using me after moving on

I'm really sorry, lost time won't wait
You always took so long
I'm leaving now

All your praising me turned tides all over mine
Are you erasing me
Lipstick from the asylum goes on

Something that has stolen us
Always some
Something that has stolen us
Always some

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me
