Sometimes life is so unfair it makes me want to scream-walls are closing in on me and I can hardly breathe-but no matter how hard it gets I can't just walk
my lord and savior Jesus Christ will always carry me-He will not give you more than you can handle within a single day-turn your eyes to Him and watch your troubles go away-there is always hope-there is always hope-there is always hope-when you feel like giving up and you've lost all hope inside-turn to Him with all your heart, deny your foolish pride-trust in Him and you will never fall-trust in him "King of all"-when you are tired of your own way-trust in Christ He'll set you free.
