I know trust, I know fate, I know lust
I've lived to tell the tales
Many years pass me by, leaving me alone with wasted time

The arrow flies, just as fast as time
As I watch it fly, the sunset fills my eyes, oh

Throw myself back into the ocean, and I've lived to tell the tale
Throw myself back into the ocean, but it wouldn't take me back
No it wouldn't take me back

I don't trust, I don't hate, I don't lust anymore
Since I was left behind Consciously I'm awake, I don't sleep anymore since god erased your life

The arrow flies, just as fast as time
As I watch it fly, the sunset fills my eyes, oh

Throw myself back into the ocean, and I've lived to tell
the tale
And I've lived to tell the tale Throw myself back into the ocean, but it wouldn't take
me back
No it wouldn't take me back

My father said you did your best
You tore your soul out of your chest
He said he made the same mistake
My mother wept, she told me son
I'll let you cry but just this once Because I made the same mistake

Throw myself back into the ocean, but it wouldn't take
me back
No it wouldn't take me back
