All alone in your bedroom
Sitting right across from you
I feel the heat come through
It burns inside my chest, it's caving in

Always thought the world of you
Never needed any proof
The more and more I know
It kills me just to hear it

Oh boy
I thought that I would be stronger (You don't have to go)
(Please, you don't have to say this)
I thought that this would be harder (I don't have to know)
(Cuz I know I can't take that)

You can take the pain away
With everything you say to me
Just lie to me, lie to me
I don't care, it doesn't matter

You can take the pain away
With everything you say to me
Just lie to me, lie to me
Don't you know that I can't handle the truth?

I'm spending money out of the bides
Something to do dark inside
The art of asking you
Is something I can't do but maybe just

If you look me in these eyes
Tell me everything's alright
That's all I need to know
That's all I need to know

Oh boy
I thought that I would be stronger (You don't have to go)

(Please, you don't have to say this)
I thought that this would be harder (I don't have to know)
(Cuz I know I can't take that)

You can take the pain away
With everything you say to me
Just lie to me, lie to me
I don't care, it doesn't matter

You can take the pain away
With everything you say to me
Just lie to me, lie to me
Don't you know that I can't handle the truth?

The art to wanna face the night
Aside you with your blithe
The day that I came crawling back to you
What do you do when you're the answer?
Told you to kill
Cuz the love is to love you
Love is the loneliness that's coming home with you
With you

You can take the pain away
With everything you say to me
Just lie to me, lie to me
I don't care, it doesn't matter

You can take the pain away
With everything you say to me
Just lie to me, lie to me
Don't you know that I can't handle
Don't you know that I can't handle
Don't you know that I can't handle the truth?

Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
Lie to me
