She turns to me so softly she says she understands what's driving me insane the nights we spent together were more than just a game but now nothing is like it used to be so i say

Don't wanna live without you
I never meant it to be that way
Don't wanna live without you
why don't you give it a try now

We've been parted much too long it's time to spread or wings and fly broken hearted we're standing on the river line of a love gone by

Don't wanna live without you
I never meant it to be that way
Don't wanna live without you

didn't mean to rob your heart I just wished that we could have a start to live our life the way it's meant to be didn't me to do you harm it's just that I can't resist your charms the promise that you keep is too inviting
