Stroke over my face and then take me some place whatever you say I obey.

Run the stars with me and kiss the moon softly let's make the blue sky turn grey.

You're more than just adorable
You're more than just adorable

Missing you kills me though it's temporary these wounds won't pass by.

If only you could be in place here with me
The weight of the world would feel light

You're more than just adorable
You're more than just adorable

When the rain sets in and runs down the drain then I start wondering
If you're crying or is it just raining?

Warmth of your heart makes mine fall apart please see me off to sleep

Now hold me
gently
make everything go away

make all that kills me go away

You're more than just adorable
You're more than just adorable

When the rain sets in
then I start wondering

The sound of your heart the sound of your pain make me
the sound of your heart
make me crawl away from here hold me

2x
When the rain sets in
then I start wondering

3x just raining

more than just adorable
