12 Shades of grey every life this day a single fraction of a maze
--ing dreams I'd like to tell you in songs of paradise well the earth you know's right here the oils running dry so laugh cry at the same time come heal the wounds yeah... when there's no more water left and no more air in our breath what will this earth be worth?
Do you want war or peace? Blood for oil greed won't feed the hunger of our needs.
So light my candles pray that this world can still be saved that it still not too late for peace to breathe.. laugh cry at the same time come heal the wounds when there is no more water left and no more air in our breath
what will this earth be worth?
Do you want war or peace? blood for oil greed
won't feed the hunger of our needs.
Come heal the wounds
in mom's scared ways these candles light the night like the sun of June Come heal the wounds
we will all be here soon
We Unite
come wounds
come heal the wounds
in our own lives
[Chorus]
We unite
all is one and one is all
