Time gives no reason to your acts, it's a risk we have To cash, like a castle made of sand. Into your arms, I
Go sixteen years before and, there I whisper to my past
Than I'm too scared of my brand new life. But don't You think you are the only one, cause I'm a mess, I'm Not effective, force me to land on my bed, I'm flying
High and that is my problem...

Cause I'm not doing like I always do, it seems to me

I'm back to innocence, because I'm always trying to be Safe when I am scared, I'm back to innocence...

Give me your love so I can't turn the page, kiss me
Before you start to fade to gray, must I forget this
And go ahead to pretend it's lost, to believe it's lost?
Now 1000 miles away, you hear my voice inside your Head as I'm singing on this stage.
