Will you still need this song when epopees are over?
Our heroes died a thousand times, yeah we all know it.
Who's representing our community? I don't want to know
About
The same failed promises that come and go, wasting our
Trust,
Covering our bones.

Do you still need me when the prices are up?
Do you still fill the gap with non decent jobs?
Do you still use the old and waste the young?

Will you still need a song when your career is over,
I'll be there to celebrate, to tear down your monuments

And turn on the page.
Who's representing our community? I don't want to know
About
our
Trust,
Covering our bones.

Do you still need me when the prices are up?
Do you still fill the gap with non decent jobs?
Do you still use the old and waste the young?

... and some workers are part of your deal,
What is our class if we don't give a fuck?
Where is emancipation and equal rights?
Modernity is dead, ghosts are back.
