

G.a.s. Drummers

"Jody's Garage"

Visit "Jody's Garage" on MotoLyrics.com

Step back on my memories, I was the dream of every Class mate, desirable and popular, 1000, thousand
Hearts surrounded my, name. And I didn't know I
Didn't know, I didn't look for further feelings, I
Didn't think I had to show, something under the Mask I'm missing...

It's just something superficial, I've lost my mask but
Now the world can see me as a monster, I'm no
Longer the dance queen as you can see.

With no eyebrows and hair, metal plate in my head.
I don't think I'll ever forget that day, my model life
Went down it wasn't the fire, it wasn't the crash,
That hell began when bandages were off.

Now I know what freaks feel like and I think I've Ever tried to put myself under their skin, my face is Unknown to the people I've known, I'm no longer
The queen as you can see. It takes me down, it
Takes me to my knees, how could I ever forget there
Was something inside of me? I have covered all my Room with photos of my youth, I'm nailed to the Walls, nailed to the walls... it's so fucked up! With
No eyebrows and hair, metal plate in y head.

Visit G.a.s. Drummers page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.