You think I notice that you're standing there right next to me

Am I supposed to bow my head and thank you gratefully

You break my heart and turn around to get what still remains

I sold my soul and bought my fear, my inner pain

Without a clue I trust I follow you with my eyes blind

And what I cannot see I need, I cannot leave behind

With all those eyes on me their hunger is insanity

I can see you standing there

Do you wanna be free, do you wanna be me

I don't wanna be the only one

To see my name wrote up on the sun

I don't wanna be the only one

To watch it fall into the sea

I don't wanna have to play the game

To sell my soul, betray my name

I don't wanna be the only one

To watch it fall into the sea

So you just sit there stuck afraid to risk reality

Those words are mine and you can find them deep inside of me

You walk away some how dismayed at what you may have done

The lies, the dreams, the broken promises, the only one

I can't remember whose idea it was to make this real

Divided equally my feelings I still cannot feel

And there you are you're all alone inside your fantasy

I can see you standing there

Do you wanna be free, do you wanna be me

I don't wanna be the only one

To see my name wrote up on the sun

I don't wanna be the only one

To watch it fall into the sea

I don't wanna have to play the game
To sell my soul, betray my name
I don't wanna be the only one
To watch it fall into the sea

And when the light is gone and it's just you and me
Will you allow us to be who we're supposed to be, yeah
Or will time erode our thoughts, our will, insanity

I don't wanna be the only one
To see my name wrote up on the sun
I don't wanna be the only one
To watch it fall into the sea

I don't wanna have to play the game
To sell my soul, betray my name
I don't wanna be the only one
To watch it fall into the sea

I don't wanna be the only one
I don't wanna be the only one
I don't wanna be the only one
I don't wanna be the only one

I don't wanna be the only one
I don't wanna be the only one
To watch it fall into the sea
