Your holiness is gone Sometimes love will make you sad Until you know where you belong You'll dream of what you never had I can feel the falling leaves Filling up my vacant mind When i fall onto my knees I pray you don't leave me behind Summertime is over I don't owe you nothing When you say your leaving I want you to hold on Summertime is over I don't owe you nothing I can see september sun Sinking in the autumn sky If you want me to be gone I've left already in my mind Summertime is over I don't owe you nothing When you say your leaving I want you to hold on Summertime is over I don't owe you nothing When you say your leaving I want you to hold on
