I still remember the day
You said you're going away
A part of me was dying
I knew that deep in my heart
Nothing could tear us apart
There's no use in denying

I know love doesn't come easy
My heart is empty that much is true
And I still look for the reason
That you never let me get close to you

Chorus
More than life
I love you more than the air that I breathe
It's all because you're the one that i need
And every day that I live I believe
I just can't give anymore
More than life

If I could hold back these tears
I could forget all the years
That we were together
And even now late at night
Sometimes it doesn't feel right
I could lose you forever

I keep on hoping you'll hear me
Someday I'll turn and I'll find you there
I'm holding on but just barely
I still love you more than life
Girl, I swear

Chorus

Is a mistery sometimes
I don't know why
love can pass before our eyes
Before I let you go
Baby, there is something you should know

I love you more

Chorus
