Hopped a train rolling down the track
Burned my ticket so I couldn't come back
Tried to go where you wouldn't find me
Tried to hide when I saw your face
Hoping you'd just forget my name
I woke up and your love revived me
I was running backwards
'Til my heart was captured
Go ahead, throw away the key

There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
You're the center of my universe
Everywhere I try to turn
There's no no no escape
No escape from your love

Like a castaway marooned
On the wrong side of the moon
I thought I was a million miles from you
If I could ever go back in time
Find myself in another life
There's not a day I wouldn't know you

There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
You're the center of my universe
Everywhere I try to turn
There's no no no escape
No escape from your love

Running, you know that I was running
Like a criminal
But somehow you arrested me
Your love has got the best of me
I know that you won't let me go

There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
You're the center of my universe
Everywhere I try to turn
There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
There's no no no escape
No escape from your love
