I take the time to look around me, another day in a crowd
These are the days I feel while everyone is moving on I'm holding on, just holding on, all alone with everyone

Oblivious is how I want to be, hmm, to the world surrounding me
'Cause You know my name and that's enough for me
I'm seeing what I think I see, You seeing me
Even underneath the height of things

You know, who am I comparatively
Against the wind beside the sea
Through time and space between the trees
Beneath the sky on my knees
Behind the walls that made me feel free
You opened the door and You found me
I thought I was lost guess I was wrong
You had it planned all along, and You made room for me

Now I'm forever in awe these days of the way you deal with me
Hard to believe that You can always be patiently creating still a better me
Always seeing deep inside the best in me

And I'm amazed at who I am comparatively
Against the wind beside the sea
Through time and space between the trees
Beneath the sky on my knees
Behind the walls that made me feel free
You opened the door and You found me
I thought I was lost, guess I was wrong
You had it planned all along, and You made room for me

And I'm amazed at who I am comparatively
Against the wind beside the sea
Through time and space between the trees
Beneath the sky on my knees
Behind the walls that made me feel free

You opened the door and You found me
I thought I was lost, guess I was wrong
'Cause You had it planned all along, You made room
for me

Against the wind beside the sea
Through time and space between the trees
Beneath the sky on my knees
Behind the walls that made me feel free
You opened the door and You found me
I thought I was lost, guess I was wrong
'Cause You had it planned all along, You made room
for me

Carry on, carry on
We all belong, carry on
Carry on, carry on
We all belong, we must carry on

Carry on, carry on
We all belong, carry on
Carry on, carry on
We all belong, we must carry on

Carry on, carry on
We all belong, carry on
Carry on, carry on
We all belong, we must carry on

Carry on, carry on
We all belong, carry on

Ooh, carry on
We all belong
We must carry on, carry on Ahh, yeah carry on
