We can take a groove
Make it move, we can prove That we're for real this time
We got nothing to hide
We can work the room, make a boom, turn it into A place where future finds something from our time

All we have to do is come into a place anew
Where we can blur the lines, elevate our minds In my head I see a kinda dream a place where we Can live, move, have our being give take it one step higher

Please we can make it better I know it really matters Wouldn't it be a trip to live in such a place you and I

Been trying to build a rubber house so we all can live together
Been trying to build a rubber house so we all can live
together
Don't you wanna put the hammer down Take a break from all the pressure
Be whatever whatever whatever whatever

Hands up in the air if you dare we don't care
If it brings you to your knees it's alright by me Love will find you still it's in His will for us to build
One voice, one single gift, and lift it down from here

We gotta get together, we really gotta get there I could betcha I'll be telling you again and again

Been trying to build a rubber house so we all can live
together
together
Come and go with me to my Father's house take a break from all the pressure Whatever, whatever, whatever, whatever
