Last night
you left a note that your white fence was gone Where is your head?
Stuck in a hole

It was the first time you had a chance and you gave it all up With nothing left
Stuck in a hole

and I feel like I'm in hell
cause I tried to save myself
I didn't think I needed help
Was it too late, walking through the wasteland

Great light has kept my compass pointed down in the dirt
I've got nothing left
Stuck in a hole
and the light shines into the darkest places for a desperate heart when I was left Stuck in a hole

and I feel like I'm in hell
cause I tried to save myself
was it too late, walking through the wasteland
crawling through the wasteland looking for a true friend standing out with both ends

I'll never stop looking for the way out
for the way out
I don't wanna stay in
