Brown eyes will you wait for me to follow?
I'm used to letting everybody down
I've seen your face in our shadow
Does it look as pretty in the light

Oh, will you save me from myself?
Will I save you from the rest?
Oh, brown eyes
Save a little something for me too

Full moon is there wisdom in your tide play?
The cold is come and now the love throwing everybody off
Sleep just doesn't taste the same
I'll be waiting till we're side by side once again

Old love how I wish we were an old love
I've survived all this and more
Oh, you're turning everything to dust
And the wind is picking up

Oh, brown eyes
Save a little something for me too
