Let's sing a song to end the world. No, I'm not kidding.
I said my prayers, or so I said, and nothing's hidden.
Let's sing a song for only us, cause no one else matters as much.
Let's sing it strong, and sing it proud.
I don't know any better sound than that.

Drown with me tonight. Forget the world the around you.
I'll sing to you softly 'til you drift to sleep.
This world could end tomorrow. Baby, we won't miss it.
The world will fall apart and listen, so will we.

I sing a song, a bitter song, of my frustration.
I've heard your song for way too long, and nothing's changing.
I sing this song for all of us, cause we can feel what matters most.
I sing it strong, but never proud.
I don't need any other sound than that.

Drown with me tonight. Forget the world the around
you.
I'll sing to you softly 'til you drift to sleep.
This world could end tomorrow. Baby, we don't need it.
The world will fall apart and listen, so will we.

Drive safely. Drive safely. Drive safely home.

Drown with me tonight. Forget the world the around
you.
I'll sing to you softly 'til you drift to sleep.
This world could end tomorrow. Baby, we won't miss it.
The world could fall apart and listen, so will we.
Drown with me tonight. Forget the world around you.
I'll sing to you softly 'til you drift to sleep.
