Moving to the far horizons where the great big waters fall And the last of the clowns gonna tell the tale what will happen to us all All you people got to go on this carnival of doom
And I guess you know things got out of hand
And if not you will know soon

Let's go to the end of the world and keep your eyes wide open
To see what's up on the other side and rave across the skies
Let's go!

On a quest for Eldorado past the valley of the dolls No matter what they guarantee the banks of God are closed What's behind the cracks in heaven, will we make our final stand Cause it seems to me the more we pray the less there is a happy end

Let's go to the end of the world and keep your eyes
wide open
To see what's up on the other side and rave across the skies
Let's go!

And the coloured girls go...
