i'm living in a perfect world embedded in a perfect game can't get enough of all this stuff but everything is quite the same and all the cigarettes and pills, all the visions, all the thrills they seem to come second hand i wonder if you understand the mirror is a brilliant place to lose myself within a maze they moved the moon when i looked down and then they turned the stars around i try to speak but what's the use, instead i scream, i'm so confused and when i tried to touch your face, you disappeared without a trace just see me through and please believe me what i'm telling you (you disappeared without a trace) don't bring me down i'm standing naked here in front of u, just when i tried to touch your face
just come on here
what do you think that i can do for you i might have lied so many times before but this time i'll be true these days are fast, they seem like glass, they rushing in and then they pass they have no value anymore, they seem like clones or metaphors and honesty is what we hate, it's what we're trying to escape from i wash my hands a million times like pilate when he did his crimes when we are young we're wild and free, when we get old we're history i struggled hard to fit the mold, i hope i die before you're old it doesn't matter what we gain when all our does or dies are in vain and when the music fades away our memories just go astray
just see me through
(and when the music fades away)
don't bring me down
i'm standing naked here in front of you (Our memories just go astray)
just come on here
what do you think that i can do for you
i might have lied so many times before
