I look into myself, there's nothing deep inside
There's an emptiness that I can't seem to hide
Well, you and I can't see the wood from the trees
So call me stupid if you please

This is the song for no one but myself,
This is the song for no one but myself,
This is the song for no one but myself
...but myself, but myself !

Drifting slowly to the point of no return
Self control and grace is something I should learn
I lift my eyes up to that big wide sky
Leave behind what's on my mind

This is the song for no one but myself,
This is the song for no one but myself,
This is the song for no one but myself
...but myself !

This is the song for no one but myself,
This is the song for no one but myself,
This is the song for no one but myself

Blazé queens, their voices so mauve
Joanie kings, all numbers ben fierce

Blazé queens, their voices so mauve
Rouge for days, fantabulosza-zsa!
Joanie kings, all numbers ben fierce
Dilly Boys, so ferricadooza!
