you carved the runes into my bones and signed them
up for me
i still don't know what's on your list and what's prepared for me
you killed the fairies in my dreams, you poured their blood on me if i only knew your plans, i'd drink it happily i hate to be in love with you but put the blame on me you're innocent just like a gun, you love me dangerously
your body seems to be unreal, your touch is like the sea and when i gaze upon your smile the devil grins at me but if i lost your gleaming look i'd lose the light in me as long as i can feel the pain i burn fantastically
you brought the stars right down to me, you smashed them on the ground you ripped the moon out of its place and turned it upside down maybe you thought i'd take it cool but i feel like i'm cursed armed with the rapture of a fool i ruin my universe

up for me
prepared for me...
...for me
...for me
...for me
