"Saw A Light"

Visit "Saw A Light" on MotoLyrics.com

A sunshine in the dawn passion enflamed to a neverending storm
After my love has gone, night turns to day all visions away
Don't go away
I never promised you to come back and stay
Now I feel lost and 'lone Surrounded by spring
It cuts to the bone
Where do I go
The moon meets the sun
Tomorrow welcome
I'm still loving you
Please let me know what I can do
Saw a light in your eyes
There must be something you're hiding from me
Now I know our love's a lie
Now I see you again and I'm ready for a new beginning of the game
But this time you are the puppet of mine and I'm holding the twine
I remember me low
Didn't you promise that you never let me go
