What's your point fighting me
You should save your energy
'Cause when your cracks begin to show I'll creep in You'll never know

What if you counted all the times
You turned me down
Would you understand?

It could be so much easier
If you want me, if you need me
It could be so much easier
If you want me, if you need me
This time

In all this confusion I can see
Your skin is crawling next to me
The more you push
The more I pull
Trying to keep you invisible

What if you counted all the times
You turned me down
Would you understand?

It could be so much easier
If you want me, if you need me
It could be so much easier
If you want me, if you need me
We could beat all this loneliness
If you want me, if you need me
It could be so much easier
If you want me, if you need me
This time
This time

'Cause I can feel you under me
And you can't move until you sleep

It could be easier
If you want me, if you need me

It could be easier
If you want me, if you need me
We could beat all this loneliness
If you want me, if you need me
It could be so much easier
Do you want me?
Do you need me?
This time
