Your life is coming undone
But your face will carry as one
The tree is naked blowing your life
But your lies, existing one by one

You never called me yesterday
Is that because you're ashamed
Cause you're beauty will come out straight
But your lies, your lies, your lies

(chorus)
I... can't... go on
Why... won't you say it and mean it
Why... won't you say it to me and mean it too
Why... won't you say it to my face again, so
Why... oh my friend

You never look at me the same
Is that because you're to blame
Your beauty comes out strong
But your lies, your life, you lied
