Doors kept opening around
The mirrored walls
Never to come up
In the American light Kept popping up to find Surrounding waves were Too difficult to survive
When there's no else around
It's been a pleasure Mr., but I won't be coming back next time
Thanks for all you've shown us but I won't be coming back next time
Make way toward a familiar voice
Tunnel vision
Never catching up
Another endless night
Like a sweater with a tiny tear
Slowly unravel
Never to be sown up
Beyond all repair
It's been a pleasure Mr., but I won't be coming back next
time
Thanks for all you've shown us but I won't be coming next time
Every day slowly dying
Collecting without any meaning
No one's signed up just to suffer
This isn't how it's supposed to be now
It's been a pleasure Mr., but I won't be coming back next
time
back next time
