

the Time the Sun's Gone Down by Langhorne Slim

"By the Time the Sun's Gone Down"

Visit "By the Time the Sun's Gone Down" on MotoLyrics.com

Tell me someday if we talk,
are you afraid of being haunted?
And by the docks we'll take a walk
and discuss things we had and never wanted
and with the money that you've made,
have your behaviors changed?
and when someone gets fancy and you get antsy,
will you still run to me?

So long my only love,
in which direction have you gone?
And by the time the suns gone down tonight,
you'll know that your the only one.
And by the time the suns gone down tonight,
you'll know that your the only one.

I run into some people and they ask me how you are,
I tell em that your doing well,
and hope that they step in front of a car.

And tell me someday if we talk,
what I said or did that made you leave.
I know at sometime I've done something,
but somehow I've got no memory

So long my only love,
in which direction have you gone?
And by the time the suns gone down tonight,
you'll know that your the only one.
And by the time the suns gone down tonight,
you'll know that your the only one.

So long my only love,
in which direction have you gone?
And by the time the suns gone down tonight,
you'll know that your the only one.
And by the time the suns gone down tonight,
you'll know that your the only one.

