She flies by the light of the hunter moon
Onward for the prophecy to come true
Soaring above the trees
Swift as an arrow speeds

She hears the pounding of the drums
They call her for the battle to be won
She must arrive by dawn
For her to lead them on

Black raven queen of night
She brings her strength and might
For victory

Long ago in her ancient crystal cave

She learned of the warriors she would save
Her quest and destiny
To set her people free

Black raven queen of night
She brings her strength and might
For victory

Black raven queen of night
She brings her strength and might
For victory
Black raven of the night
The hour has arrived
For victory
