Please please please
Please tell me the truth
I want to hear it from you
I want to feel it from you

Please please please
I must know who I am
I must know where I stand
I am lost on the sand

You run straight through the night
But there's no place to hide
And without your disguise
You must look to the sky

Please please please
Which way to begin
When it comes again
When the ice is too thin

Please please please
I know you are my friend
And although it will end
When we're broken we mend

You run straight through the night
But there's no place to hide
And without your disguise
You must look to the sky

You run straight through the night
But there's no place to hide
And without your disguise
You must look to the sky
