You say this ain't over yet
I've said things that I'll regret
It won't be easy to forget
Scars take time to heal
Before another bitter word gets loose
I was hoping we could call a truce
Cause nobody wins, we both lose
Hearts get broken and love gets bruised
When we light that same
Old fuse again and again
Nobody wins, slamming doors
We've both lost this fight before
And I won't play this game no more
Cause nobody wins
Darlin' we got too much pride
It don't matter who's wrong or right
Honey love ain't black and white
It's the way I feel about you
All I wanna do is hold you tight
I can't take another angry night
Nobody wins, slamming doors
We've both lost this fight before
And I won't play this game no more
Cause nobody wins
I know something's bound to break if we don't bend
Baby what's it gonna take
Nobody wins, slamming doors
We've both lost this fight before
And I won't play this game no more
Cause nobody wins
