Got me watching your eyes watching things go by outside
Out the window of a train
Easy sipping them just seeing it fly left to right Pour the milk and I'll say when

I'm out wandering around
You're but one thing I've found
Don't mean to bring you down
I'm out wandering around

Kinda hoped you wouldn't blame me
I can't wake up every day and find the same me
You can scream but I'll just dream how you might disappear
All I know is it's never clear
I can't hold you near
You just aren't here
Though it wasn't hard or far
I walked you to your car
